Dr Malini Rabha
Principal, Bikali College

Dear Madam,

This has a reference to our discussion sometime back. Apology for not being able to put a proposal to that effect.

As discussed, we can organise a one day workshop cum field visit on Active Citizenship in collaboration with your NSS/Career Counselling cell of the college. This will serve two purposes- 1) Kaziranga University and Bikali College both can show it as one of its outreach programmes so far as promotion of better citizenship is concerned, and 2) the Students get a better understanding about their role and responsibilities as citizens of the country and therefore can promote active citizenship. You might be aware that this kind of activities will add a lot of value as per the mandate of the New Education Policy.

Through Active Citizenship programme, we try to bring together students with different beliefs and perspectives to learn from and share with each other. Participants are trained in the skills and knowledge needed to affect social change in their communities, and the programme connects thousands of people in the community who collectively can make a fairer and more inclusive society within the spirit of Indian Constitution. First hour will be devoted for conceptual understanding and workshop and in the second hour we can take the students to the nearby Gram Panchayat for an interface with the elected members of Gram Panchayat and getting a first hand knowledge about the local governance system.

From our side two faculty members can come to conduct the programme. If any one of your faculty members is interested to be part of the programme, it will be really great!

To meet the cost of the programme, can we please request you to kindly arrange our transport from Guwahati and back and some tea & snacks for the students. We will take care of our travel from Jorhat to Guwahati and back.

We propose to have the programme either on 15th or 16th of November. Once you agree to have this programme we will share the programme module. We can also invite the Police Officer gentleman, whom we met during our programme on 30th March, 2019.

Seminar on Active Citizenship

Organised by Kaziranga University in collaboration with Bikali College

Date : 7th Nov, 2019

Venue: Conference Hall, Bikali College, Dhupdhara, Goalpara

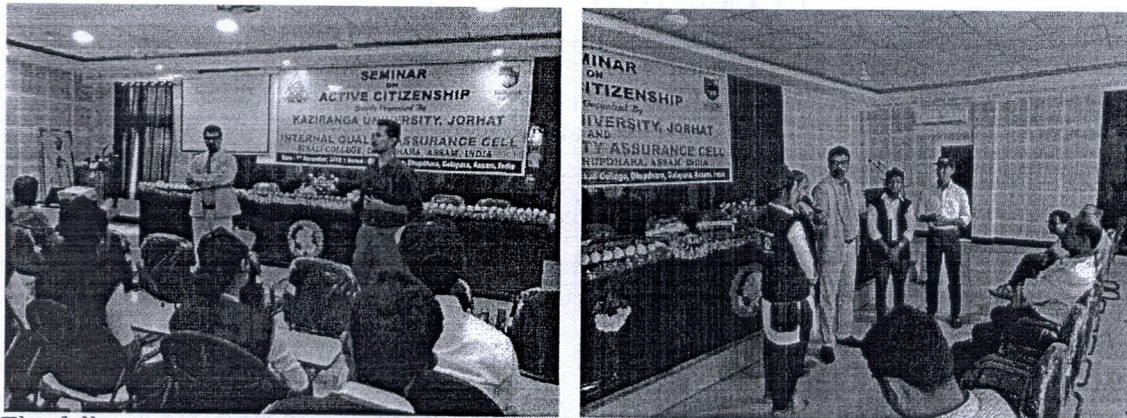

A one-day seminar on 'Active Citizenship' was organised by Kaziranga University in collaboration with Bikali College, Dhupdhara, Goalpara. It was a unique programme in the sense that the programme was blended with class room discussions, role play, audio-visual resources, field visit and a reflection session at the end of the programme. The programme was inaugurated by Dr Malina Devi Rabha, Principal, in the presence of Vice Principal Dr Ananya Baruah, Prof Braja S. Mishra, Dean, School of Social Sciences, Kaziranga University, and senior faculty members and staff of Bikali College. The Internal Quality Assurance Cell and NSS wing of the College was the coordinating the seminar. The seminar was attended by about 80 students from Higher Secondary, Undergraduate and Postgraduate programme of the college.

Objective of the Seminar : Through Active Citizenship programme, we try to bring together the students from different social, religious and indigenous groups and having varied perceptions and perspectives about society, community, institutions and governance, and try to inculcate the epitome of our national values like 'unity in diversity', 'cultural pluralism' and 'inclusive development'. Through a simulated environment, the students try to learn from and share with each other and realise the artificial barriers and discriminations inculcated through the socialisation process. Participants are trained in the new life skills and knowledge needed to affect social change in their communities to work towards achieving the core values mentioned above. It is expected the programme will not only trigger the very young and energetic minds of the students, but also spread to thousands of people in their community, which ultimately can contribute in making a fairer and more inclusive society within the spirit of Indian Constitution and working toward sustainable development goals.

Resource Person: Prof Braja S. Mishra was the main resource person for the seminar, who was assisted by the Carrier counsellor of Kaziranga University Mr Sanjeeb Shah Rangsheel.

The following were discussed in the first half of the day.

- Citizenship : Its social, economic, political and cultural facets ( how we relate to our career ?)
  - Cultural pluralism, Unity in Diversity, Inclusive Growth & Development
  - Social Justice and Gender Justice
- ( methods : interaction , group discussion and Audio-Visuals )

- Do we play an active role ? Let us Discuss ( Games & Exercises)
  - Governance, Local Governance (PRIs)
  - Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
- ( methods : interaction , group discussion and Audio-Visuals )

In the afternoon, all the student participants, teachers visited the nearby Gaon Panchayat, 73 Kothakuthi Gaon Panchayat to have an interface with the elected PRI members to understand how ward level and Gaon Panchayat level development plan is done and resources are allocated. The President of the Panchayat Mr Utpal Rabha explained the functioning of gaon panchayat and what process they follow in conducting Gaon Sabha and make it more inclusive.

There was a discussion on resource mobilisation and taking up some innovative activities to involve the youth population of the panchayat and explore the possibilities of creating a supportive ecosystem for promoting skill for employment, self employment and entrepreneurship. Because all our development plan would be futile if the youth population remains without gainful engagement. Some students ask questions on what support they can avail through gaon panchayat to start their venture in agri and allied areas. Quite a good number of ideas and suggestions came up in the course of discussion which even elected representatives were very excited to receive and assured to make an effort for implementing the same.

After the field visit a reflection exercise was conducted to take the feedback of the students about effect of the programme and how could be organised in still better manner in future. It was found, every student was very excited about the discussions and activities undertaken and suggested to make the seminar at least one and half days long to absorb and reflect the ideas better.

At the end of the programme, Mr Bhupati Das, Asst Professor and Coordinator of Internal Quality Assurance Cell proposed a vote of thanks for the college authority, resource persons, and students for making the programme an exciting success.

Webinar on Socio- Economic impact of Covid-19

Date: 24th June 2020

Hosted By: Department of Economics, Bikali College

Platform: Google Meet

Objective: The main objective of this webinar was to analyze and discuss the Socio-Economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on individuals, businesses and the overall economy. The aim was to shed light on the challenges faced and potential solutions to mitigate the adverse effects.

Mission: The mission of the Economics Department is to provide valuable insights and analysis on economic trends and issues and to foster a deeper understanding of economic principles and their real world applications. Through webinars and events like this, the department aims to educate and engage the community on pressing economic matters.

Vision: The vision of the Economics Department is to become a leading hub for economic research and analysis, creating a platform for informed discussions and policy recommendations that contribute to sustainable and inclusive economic growth.

Resource Person: Dr. Abdul Haque Ahmed, a renowned economist with expertise in macroeconomic analysis and policy formulation, was the key resource person for the webinar. Abdul brought a wealth of experience and knowledge on economic crises and recovery processes, making his insights invaluable for understanding the implications of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Moderator: Puja Devi Hasawory, a seasoned academic and expert in economic development, served as the moderator for the webinar. Puja skillfully guided the discussion, ensured participation from attendees, and managed the flow of information and questions. Her expertise in facilitating engaging discussions enriched the overall experience for the participants.

The webinar on the socio-economic impact of COVID-19, organized by the Economics Department, brought together a diverse audience of economists, policymakers, students, and professionals keen on understanding the far-reaching consequences of the ongoing global crisis. The session began with a comprehensive overview of the economic disruptions caused by the pandemic, highlighting the sectors most affected and the challenges faced by various stakeholders.

Dr. Abdul Haque Ahmed, the resource person, delved into the macroeconomic implications of the crisis, discussing the unprecedented levels of unemployment, disruptions in supply chains, and the overall slowdown in economic activity. He emphasized the need for targeted policy responses to address the immediate crisis while laying the foundation for long-term recovery and resilience. The discussion then shifted to the socio-economic impact on vulnerable groups, such as informal workers, migrants, and low-income households, who have been disproportionately affected by the crisis. The speakers underscored the importance of inclusive policies that prioritize social protection, healthcare, and economic support for those most in need.

Moderator Puja facilitated an engaging Q&A session, where participants raised pertinent questions on the role of technology, government interventions, and global cooperation in navigating the post-pandemic economic landscape. The insightful exchange of ideas and perspectives showcased the collective commitment to finding sustainable solutions and shaping a more resilient future.

In conclusion, the webinar provided a platform for dialogue and reflection on the socio-economic challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic. By bringing together experts, practitioners, and stakeholders, the Economics Department succeeded in advancing the understanding of the crisis and fostering collaborative efforts towards recovery and renewal. Overall, the webinar was a testament to the department's commitment to knowledge sharing, critical inquiry, and evidence-based policy discourse in addressing pressing economic issues. It served as a valuable opportunity for participants to gain insights, exchange views, and contribute to the collective endeavour of building a more equitable and sustainable post-pandemic world.
